The Green Deal ambitions: transforming the European economy

Double the pressure on key players

Directing financial flows towards the transition

- Banks & Investors
- Taxonomy
- SFDR
- CSRD

Shifting toward sustainable economy

- Large Enterprises

Value Chain
How does green finance support the green transition?

With a view to directing investments and ensuring the financing of sustainable activities to accelerate and manage the ecological transition.

A revised regulatory framework and new tools allow:

- Identify risks and opportunities
- Setting sustainable development goals
- Assess environmental performance
- Report to the organization's stakeholders, business or financial institution

The Taxonomy is the key to this Taxonomy: what KPI for banks?

% of assets invested in economic activities in accordance with the taxonomy, in relation to total assets covered (the Green Asset Ratio)

"Financial" companies

% of sustainable turnover, sustainable CAPEX and sustainable OPEX

"Non-financial" businesses

- Climate Change Mitigation
- Adaptation to climate change
- Protection and sustainable use of water and marine resources
- Transition to a circular economy
- Pollution Prevention and Control
- Protection and restoration of biodiversity and ecosystems

6 Environmental Objectives

Directing investment flows towards activities that contribute most to the EU's Sustainable Development Goals
The impact of Taxonomy and CSRD implementation on banks

- Banks as companies will have to transform

- To be compliant with the news regulations banks will need a lot new data

- This need will impact
  - the way of working for all the front teams
    - New topics to understand
    - New document to be read and analysed
    - News documents needed
  - the IT systems
  - New relationships with our customers
  - A renewed KYC
The impact of Taxonomy and CSRD implementation on banks

- To cope with this transformation Banks will have to develop Education of all teams

- French legislation helps: for instance RE2020 or Agec law
  - Regarding RE2020 which is the French environment regulation for building set up KPI aligned with the green taxonomy. Thanks to this regulation will be able to obtain all the data we need
  - The same with Agec law which aims to reduce waste and push toward circular economy.
